CRAV ORCHARD, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—For goods at very low prices call at W. M. Howard's.

—Born on the 18th inst. to the wife of Eld. J. G. Livingston, a boy.

—Go to E. W. Jones' for drugs, paints, oils, school books and stationery.

—The present cool, wet weather has greatly retarded corn planting in this section.

—W. M. Howard sells goods cheaper for cash than they can be bought at retail in the city.

—We are glad to report Miss Mollie Brooks as improving after a long and tedious illness.

—Mrs. J. H. Hutchings and Miss Mattie Evans have returned home after a pleasant visit to relatives in Danville.

—Andy King sold to W. R. Dillon one yoke of work cattle for $100. James Chadwick sold to J. H. Stephens a young horse for $100.

—J. F. Stride sold to J. Ottenheimer his house and lot in town for $1,350; possession given May 5th. Mr. Ottenheimer has taken a good many sixty-day options on lands in this vicinity and proposes to bring purchasers for same immediately.

—We are exceedingly sorry to note that A. M. Egbert, a popular compounder of pills, has thrown up his position in the drug store of J. R. Bailey, as he is likely to leave us soon, probably on another prospecting tour to the Black Hills. Mr. Bailey is now assisted by Mr. Thompson, a pharmacist from Cincinnati.

—Mr. Thomas C. White, an old citizen of this vicinity, and a man probably sixty, was arrested upon a warrant charging him with assault and attempting to rape the wife of John Marshall, who lives upon Mr. White's place. White gave bond in the sum of $250 for his appearance before the police court to-day, when the case will be investigated. Mr. White categorically denies the charge.

—The ball at the Springs was quite a success. The parlors were filled with the young, the gay and the beautiful. Mr. J. A. Hallemann and his accomplished wife received the company in a gracious and courteous manner, which at once made you feel a welcome guest. The music and dancing was all that could be desired. Space forbids a special mention of the ladies and their costumes.

If Tom Buford had been hung for the murder of Judge Elliott, if Chittenden had been hung for the murder of a negro, and Phil Thompson had been hung for the murder of Walter Davis, life, person and property would be much safer in Kentucky. It is the evasion of justice that creates a contempt of law. Courts and juries should remember this in making up verdicts and not lose sight of the law. If a Judge of the Court of Appeals was murdered, and a Judge of the Superior Court cowardly for decisions in their courts, may we not reasonably expect that judges of the Circuit Courts, magistrates and even jurymen will be personally called to account for decisions that may displease parties to suit? A lax administration of laws under the guise of sentimentality encourages vicious lawlessness, and who can say to what extent it may go?—Lex. Transcript.

Probably the smallest and most unique postoffice in the world is a barrel which swings from the outermost rock of the mountains overlooking the Strait of Magellan, opposite Terra del Fuego. Every passing ship opens it to put letters in or to take them out. Every ship undertakes to forward all letters in it that is possible for it to transmit. The barrel hangs by its iron chain, beaten and battered by the winds and storms, but no locked or barred postoffice on land is more secure.

The latest estimates place the population of the globe at 1,433,800,000, indicating a decrease in the last three years of some 22,000,000, though as a matter of fact there has been an actual increase of some 33,000,000. This apparent discrepancy is accounted for by the fact that the population of China has heretofore been largely over-estimated.

The United States census of 1880 gives but 64,698 clergymen, while the saloonists number 68,461, backed by 13,074 restaurateurs, 3,245 distillers, 16,278 brewers, and 32,453 hotel keepers, in all 133,511 directly and indirectly interested in the traffic. Is it any wonder that temperance is a hard row?

Borax used in this country is principally brought from Borax lake, Cal., which, it is estimated, contains 200,000,000 pounds. The lake is one and a half mile long, with five feet of water in the middle during the wet season, but during the dry season is a mere bottomless mud-hole.

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with the other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lollie Allen.

At K. M. L., Farndale, on the morning of the 14th inst., as the light spread over hill top and valley, little Lollie Allen opened her sweet eyes upon an eternal day. The long hours of the night passed away and the suffering child parted with them forever. I shall not forget the scenes in that death chamber, as hour after hour we watched and hoped and prayed. The only daughter, the idol of mother and father and brother and cousin, the loved of all lay quietly breathing away her pure beautiful life of twelve short years—near her stricken mother ministering in many ways that love dictates, speaking of Jesus and heaven and hundreds of times kissing the pale brow and white lips; the father in agony of grief every few moments touching the dear little hands with the hope that the precious one would return to comfort his heart; kind, sympathizing friends around, anxious to soothe and help. "Sing some of the sweet songs that Lollie loved," came from the mother's lips, and "Lead Me Gently" was sung with angelic sweetness that must have delighted the heavenly bands, waiting to bear the child's pure spirit up. Heaven was not far off and the "Ancient of the Holy One, the Savior was near. It came to pass that "death is swallowed up in victory," for the loving gentle child, the delight of the home circle, the father's darling, the mother's most precious treasure, the deeply loved of all, was gently led within the shining portals to be forever with the God she loved. The separation from her is hard. The tears flow and the heart is sad, but we know that Lollie is happy, happy forever.

"Out of a land whose bowers
Fertile and fair all the flowers,
Out of the land of decay
Into the Eden where fairs
Of flowers and sweetest and rarest,
Never shall wither away."

Tribute of Affection.

WHEREAS it has pleased the Good Shepherd to gather a lamb from our fold to the green pastures of His own sinless land.

Resolved, 1st. That in the death of Lollie Allen, Stanford Female College has lost one of its most beloved members—endowed to all by her gentleness and affectionate nature. Though one of the youngest of the circle, her character was adorned with many of the graces of the true woman.

2d. It is with comfort and joy we remember that she had given her young life to the service of God, by uniting with the church, after confession of His name and desiring to be numbered among His children.

3d. That we offer to her afflicted family our warmest sympathy in this common bereavement and share with them the sweet consolation and glad hope of a reunion "beyond the valley and the shadow."

4th. That these resolutions be published in the Stanford Interior Journal and Central Methodist and a copy forwarded to Col. Allen and family, of K. M. L., Farndale, Ky. T. L. CROW, Secy. Stanford Female College.

Whereas the God of love Who directs in His wisdom all things in heaven and on earth has taken from our sisterhood, the "Gamma Sigma" Society, the youngest of our members in the bloom and joy of bright girlhood, and the first one who has been called from our tender bond on earth to that home where "love immortal reigns," therefore

Resolved, 1st. That we bow in humble sorrow to the affliction which a kind Father sees fit to send upon us, recognizing His overruling providence in all of life's vicissitudes and persuaded that however mysterious His dealings with the children of men may be, he nevertheless "doeth all things well."

Resolved, 2d. That in losing dear Lollie we lose a friend, tried and true, a face of smiles that gave us constant joy; a heart that loved us and a sister, whose tender associations, whose kind words and whose pledges of unwavering fidelity, will abide in our hearts and we shall endeavor to take them with us unchanged when our time shall come to join her in that home and in that great sisterhood of the angels, of which ours would be an imperfect earthly type.

Resolved, 3d. That we extend to the broken-hearted father, mother, relations and friends in general, whose hearts are sore with our sorrow, that the blow which falls so heavily on them falls also on us, for we loved her too.

Resolved, 4th. That we drape our badges in mourning for sixty days as an outward expression of that sadness which envelops our hearts in saying, "My sister, my sister, a long, long farewell. Farewell 'till we meet again."

Savior of the world, into Thy arms we commit her precious soul.

"Gamma Sigma" Hall, Stanford Female College, April 21st, 1884.

Robt. T. Hall, aged 4 years, 8 months and 17 days, departed this life on last Tuesday, the 15th inst. None knew him but to love him and he won his way into the affections of both young and old who mourn with the bereaved parents at his untimely death. Father, mother, do not mourn for your first born, for you know that God gave his precious child to the grave and he was resurrected to dwell with the saints above, then take that consolation and meet Robert.

ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

Lyons silk industry in 1883 employed 150,000 persons. The silk weavers receive about 40 cents a day, live poorly and are physically inferior, and many of the younger men are exempted from military service on account of weakness.

The Penitent Old Negro.

During the overflow, just as the water was creeping up into the loft of a cabin, an old negro man, dropped on his knees, clasped his hands and prayed:

"Oh, Lawd, I'd jes like ter know what I've eber done to deserve all dis hear punishment. Lawd, ef yar servant hab eber tuck nothin' what didn't 'long ter him, an' he's afraid dat he hab, he's mighty sorry for hit. Water am all right, Lawd, but too much of a good thing makes a man powerful sick."

Just then Col. Milridge, who owned the plantation, came in a boat, and hearing the old negro, climbed noiselessly on to the roof.

"Lawd, I've tried ter be honest an'—"

"Didn't you steal Milridge's hog?" asked the colonel in a deep voice.

"Whut's dat, Lawd?" in tones of agitation.

"You know what I said. Didn't you steal Milridge's hog?"

"Lawd, come ter think er bout it, bl'ebie I did sorter take hold er one."

"Old man, there is no use in lying to me. I have been watching you for a long time, and I have decided to punish you according to crime."

"Oh, Lawd, ef yer'll jes' let me off dis time, I neber will do nothin' else ter 'sorb punishment. I 'knowed dat I've de biggest' thief in de community, an' yer servant craves pardon."

The colonel began to laugh and the old man catching sight of him, said:

"I sees yer up dar, colonel. I knowed it was yerse' all de time. I neber stold no hogs nor ruffin' else," climbing out on the roof. "Bless de Lawd, colonel, yer boat am floatin' erway. Uh, huh. Dat's whut's yer gits for tryin' ter ack de Lawd?"

[Arkansas Traveler.]

IN A STREET-CAR.—Scene—a street-car in Pittsburg, Pa.—Enter two young ladies, who look at one another, out of the window, up at the roof and everywhere but where the conductor patiently stands waiting his fare. Conductor—"Fare, please!" Out come two portemonnaies from two alighting bags. "I've the change," "S'ee I." "No, let me," "I can't think of it," "Oh, you must," "No, no, I shan't," "But you really must," Conductor—"Fare, please!" Two hands are slowly extended toward him, when suddenly one comes back with a jerk and, "I declare, how provoking! That's 10 cents with a hole in it." Backed by a queer persimmon smile, the other hand drops its two nickels, while its owner will not look at the other girl for two blocks and vows mentally that she is the meanest, stingiest trickiest thing that ever lived and she'll never, never speak to her again.—[Pittsburg Leader.]

Of the seventy-five or eighty colonels in Kentucky at the beginning of the late war only about three thousand five hundred remain.—[Maysville Republican.]

They are a blessing to all mankind, and can be had for only fifty cents a bottle at Penny & McAllister's.

Crow's Smuggler!

Is a dark mahogany bay horse, foaled June 14th, 1880; full 16 hands high; high style and good action; was sired by the champion trotting stallion of the world, the renowned Smuggler, record 2:13.4. First dam by Mammoth Starlight, 2d dam by Oliver, he by Wagner, 3d dam by Wagner, 4th dam Helen Fawcett by Imp. Trandy; 5th dam Nell Twinn by Thornton, 6th dam by Imp. Trandy; 7th dam Nell Twinn by Imp. Spread Eagle; 8th dam by Shark; 9th dam by Imp. Janus. Thus we have all the desired elements—a combination of the highest type—of trotting, pacing and endurance. Therefore Crow's Smuggler is evidently must produce speedily as well as the highest type of combined horse. His sire could trot better than 2:15 and pace better than 2:25.

SMUGGLER'S RECORD AGAINST THAT OF ALL OTHER LIVING STALLIONS.—The fastest first heat time, 2:10; fastest second heat time, 2:17; fastest third heat, 2:16; fastest fourth heat, 2:19; fastest fifth heat, 2:17. He beat Goldenrod Maid on her merits at Cleveland, Ohio. Considering that this was a competing race, desperately contested and fought from beginning to end, won with no favors shown but every advantage taken to defeat Smuggler, it stands second to no triumph ever won on the trotting turf. He sired the great Illinois horse, Post, one of the best of the family, made a pacing record of 2:17.4 and driver weighing 260 pounds. Young Pachomatus trotted a mile in 2:18.4 in 1884. Another of the great family, Strideaway, trotted three consecutive heats in 2:19, 2:17.4 and 2:18.5, proving conclusively that no other family of horses have shown so much speed and wonderful endurance. It is safe to presume that such great performing ability never appears without an inheritance.

Gentlemen, examine the stud books and you will find that CROW'S SMUGGLER traces seven times to Imp. Messenger and once to English Messenger, the sire of Imp. Messenger. Mammoth Starlight, his full brother, Woodlake, has a record of 2:28 in giving all satisfaction. I now put this horse's services at the very low price of $15.00 to insure a mare in foal, money due when the fact is ascertained or mare parted with. The horse will stand at my stable, 4 miles west of Stanford, Ky., on the Stanford & Shelby City turnpike. Respectfully, T. L. CROW.

I have the only colt of Crow's Smuggler's get. Said colt is a good one, out of a pure bred trotting mare; was foaled last May, goes the gates—trot, pace and race very fast and goes the running walk to perfection. F. D. ALBRIGHT, Stanford, Ky., Feb. 23, 1884.

The largest stock ever in Stanford and the best to be found in Central Kentucky, embracing about twenty five different styles from the leading manufacturers in the United States. Persons contemplating buying a vehicle this Spring should select the same or place their orders at once; for at this season all manufacturers of first-class vehicles are invariably over-run with orders and if the vehicle wanted is not on hands, it will require from four to eight weeks to obtain it; four weeks being required to make, finish and dry a first-class job ready for shipment, under the most favorable circumstances.

All work sold by me will be found to be such as I represent them, unless I have been deceived myself, and in that event the purchaser will be fully indemnified. Call and examine my stock and I will do my best to please you in style, quality and price. You can get as good vehicles from me and at as reasonable prices as you can obtain anywhere else and get a guarantee on them, besides that is worthless to you when buying away from home.
